

Luxury Cabins

My little boy, Hayden, looking out at the view while standing on the edge of the crane pad for our new accommodation cabins. We were so glad we chose a Nova Deko modular home for our accommodation cabins. The Nova Deko modular homes are of the highest quality and the service from the staff at Nova Deko was amazing.

It took just one day for the crane to move all three of our new three bedroom accommodation homes onto the posts!

The electrical work begins.

Photo courtesy of Voice Photography

The timber arrives ready for construction.

Luxury Cabins

PHOTO GALLERY

BRANELL
HOMESTEAD

Above Left: 220m of electrical cable was laid. Above Right: A beautiful view of the sunset from one of the new cabin decks.

Troy putting on the decking boards for the central deck areas.

Above: Troy building the awnings and attaching them to the cabins. My nieces are a little bit older now but are still helping with construction jobs!

Scroll down for more

Luxury Cabins

Scaffolding arrives so that the roof can be built.

Below: Troy and Dad worked together painting and sanding the timber for the roof of the cabins.

Scroll down for more

Luxury Cabins

PHOTO GALLERY

BRANELL HOMESTEAD

The roof is going on! This work is definitely not for the faint hearted, but the view is breath-taking.

Far right: Some of the finishing touches - the fence is going up.

Branell Homestead would like to give a big thank you to the team at Nova Deko. They were a fantastic company to work with and their products are first class.

novadeko.com.au

Scroll
down for more

HISTORY OF BRANELL

In 2003, 80 acres of both bush and farm land was purchased by Troy and Kathy Brady. At the time, there was only a small run down cottage where Branell Homestead now stands today. Jacaranda trees lined the driveway and there were over a hundred mango trees scattered around the property. Unfortunately, the quaint cottage that was built early last century, was condemned due to extensive termite damage.

Scroll
down for
more

BRANELL HOMESTEAD

Troy and Kathy were disappointed that the original cottage could not be salvaged and they decided to rebuild a house that was similar to it. They completed an owner builder course and spent five years creating a Queenslander with the same pitched roof and old fashioned features as the original Homestead.

Originally when Troy and Kathy were building the Homestead, they did not plan to use it for bed and breakfast accommodation. However, in March 2008 when construction of the Homestead was completed, Troy and Kathy decided to live in the Western Wing and use the Eastern Wing for bed and breakfast accommodation. Just a few months after opening, the bed and breakfast was so busy that there was demand for extra accommodation, so Troy and Kathy built a separate managers residence, 400 meters away from the Homestead at the top of their property and opened up the Western Wing for additional guest accommodation. The entire Homestead became available for the exclusive use of the bed and breakfast guests. In 2010, due to popular demand, construction began on a wedding venue and function centre down at the Jetty.

In 2014 three new Luxury Cabins for extra accommodation were constructed at the top of the property.